

TEACHING AWARDS: HIGHLIGHTS AND SUPPORTS FOR 2023-24

TEACHING AWARDS

EARLY CAREER TEACHING AWARD

NOMINATIONS DEADLINE: JANUARY 30, 2024.

Highlights:

- the ECTA summary brief has been reduced from a maximum of 20 pages to 12 to 14 pages.
- the ECTA coversheet and checklist must be downloaded and included as part of your nomination package.

PRESIDENT'S TEACHING AWARD

NOMINATIONS DEADLINE: MARCH 21, 2024.

Highlights:

- continue to update the terms of PTA to reflect the diversity of teaching and learning work
- the PTA coversheet and checklist must be downloaded and included as part of your nomination package.

NORTHROP FRYE AWARD

NOMINATIONS DEADLINE: JANUARY 30, 2024.

The Northrop Frye is designed to recognize a teaching & learning project that has been undertaken within the last five years. There are three different nomination categories:

1. For an individual faculty member
2. For an individual staff member or librarian
3. For a team. This could be a team of just faculty, just staff or a combination.

RESOURCES & SUPPORTS

STRATEGIES FOR PREPARING A TEACHING AWARD NOMINATION

WORKSHOP DATE: NOVEMBER 14, 2023 FROM 9:30-11:00 A.M.

A workshop for academic administrators and staff to discuss approaches to identifying and supporting potential candidates for teaching awards and share strategies for crafting powerful narratives about teaching award nominees. We will also share a brief overview of the criteria and the nomination process for several awards.

TEACHING AWARDS & GRANTS DATABASE

The Teaching Awards & Grants Database is a central repository of all teaching awards and grants across U of T. We continue to update the database, and would ask you to review to ensure the database reflects the current awards and grants offered by your division. If you have any updates, please email the OVPIUE at awards.provost@utoronto.ca.

DISCOVERY SERIES

NEXT SESSION: NOVEMBER 17, 2023 FROM 1:00-2:30 P.M.

The Series aims to help bring together our teaching and learning community as well as to share learnings from initiatives, awards and grants supported by our office. Each session will bring together faculty and staff for an interdivisional conversation to discuss teaching and learning approaches and practices.

U OF T TEACHING AWARD AND GRANT NETWORK

A Teams Channel designed to share timely and pertinent information about upcoming deadlines for teaching awards and grants as well as workshops and other resources designed to help support the development of applications. Please contact Tegan Mannisto, Teaching Initiatives Coordinator, to be added to the Channel (tegan.mannisto@utoronto.ca).

OVPIUE NEWSLETTER

OVPIUE's monthly newsletter features announcements and reminders related to our key priorities, including teaching awards & grants. Visit the OVPIUE website to subscribe.

CENTRE FOR TEACHING SUPPORT & INNOVATION

Along with programming throughout the year, CTSI offers faculty one-on-one consultations that can help support faculty and academic administrators with the development of nominations for teaching awards.

IF YOU HAVE ANY QUESTIONS ABOUT TEACHING AWARDS AND GRANTS, PLEASE REACH OUT TO OUR TEAM IN THE OVPIUE AT AWARDS.PROVOST@UTORONTO.CA.